

Ages 18-29 report more negative experiences with racism

Some people have reported experiences with racism that have negatively affected them behaviorally and psychologically in the long-term. These experiences can cause greater vigilance of your surroundings avoiding certain people, places or things, or having a negative outlook on the world. Have you ever encountered a racist experience that has made you feel this way? (N = 1,000)

Yes No

