How important is it to you that Europe has control over key digital technologies and infrastructure (e.g., cloud services, networks, software, AI)?

June 2026

For simplicity, this visualisation combines the categories "very important" and "somewhat important," as well as "somewhat not important" and "not important at all."